

We show up. We don't look away.

Founded in 2019 and based in Lewiston, Idaho, IARN is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit powered entirely by volunteers. We have no paid staff or board members, and animals live in foster homes rather than a public shelter.

We work alongside law enforcement, veterinarians, and community partners to help animals facing cruelty, neglect, and serious medical needs. Our work continues long after the first rescue call.

Rooted in our region. Serving north central Idaho, the LC Valley, and the Nez Perce Reservation, with community partners who help us reach animals in need.

Rescue is just the beginning.

Respond to cruelty & neglect

Assist with animal welfare cases and emergency transport. Stay involved through recovery and as cases move through the courts.

Give animals a safe place to land

Foster homes provide care, stability, and time to build trust while we work toward thoughtful, best-fit adoptions.

Prevent the next crisis

Spay support, help with unexpected puppy litters, microchipping, vaccine clinics, and education help reduce future suffering.

Help animals heal

Arrange veterinary treatment, surgery, rehabilitation, and daily care for animals whose recovery may take weeks or months.

Keep pets with their people

Pet food pantries and coordinated temporary fostering support families facing hardship, domestic violence, or housing crises.

Advocate for lasting change

Work with communities and public agencies, support animal welfare education, and advocate for stronger protections for animals.

Recognition for a community effort

IARN's work has been recognized with the Spirit of Idaho Award, presented by U.S. Senator Mike Crapo; the Lewiston Police Department Merit Award; and Helping Hands Rescue's "Atta Boy" Award.

Your business. Your community. Their second chance.

PARTNER WITH IDAHO ANIMAL RESCUE NETWORK

IARN is an all-volunteer, foster-based rescue specializing in cruelty, neglect, and complex medical cases. Your support helps animals reach safety, receive care, and begin again.

Businesses, clubs, schools, churches, and workplaces can all help. Let's find a project that fits your team, budget, and interests.

Ways to help

Sponsor care or a program

Fund veterinary treatment, a rescue case, pet pantry supplies, or prevention services.

Collect food & supplies

Organize a drive for pet food, crates, cleaning supplies, or other current needs.

Give skills or services

Offer printing, photography, repairs, transport, accounting, or event support.

Donate auction items & gift baskets

Give merchandise, gift certificates, experiences, or themed baskets for fundraisers.

Host a fundraiser

Plan a benefit night, percentage-of-sales event, or customer giving campaign.

Match donations

Match employee or customer gifts with a budget and timeline that work for you.

Bring your group together

Coordinate a volunteer project or supply drive that fits your group and schedule.

Offer donations at checkout

Invite customers to round up or add a gift through your point-of-sale system.

Connect with us before collecting supplies or planning an event so we can coordinate current needs.

Your support deserves to be seen.

WHAT WE CAN OFFER YOUR BUSINESS OR GROUP

When you support IARN, we want our community to know who helped make that work possible.

Our Facebook page is one of the largest in the LC Valley and surrounding area. Together, we can highlight your involvement and connect your team with the animals you're helping.

Explore a photo or video shoot at your business with an animal in our rescue.

Fundraiser promotion

Coordinate promotion for your IARN benefit event, giving campaign, or supply drive.

Updates about your impact

When available, receive photos and updates showing what your support made possible.

Social media recognition

Thank-you posts, business tags, and partner features can highlight your support.

Website recognition

Discuss a business or group feature highlighting your involvement with IARN.

Community connections

Explore educational presentations, rescue visits, or appropriate animal appearances.

Recognition is agreed upon together. Animal shoots and appearances depend on availability, comfort, and suitability, with an IARN handler present.
